

ECLIPSE

'Eclipse' comes from the Greek word 'ekleipo', which means 'ceasing to exist' and refers to a disappearing that is accompanied with an appearing, as well as being aligned. By using an archetypal lexicon, Casper Fredeus searches for an opening to reach a state of nullity, which results in placing a limit on the limitless.

Casper Fredeus, untitled, acrylic paint and pencil on canvas, 90 x 130 cm, 2020